

Sponsorship Opportunities

The Idaho Law Review symposium is a student-lead event that is made possible by support of people like you. Choosing to participate in the Symposium is a wonderful way to show your support not only for the College of law, but for the Idaho community. Participation in the 2009 Commerce, Law, and the Internet Symposium may come in one of many forms including attending the event, sponsoring meals associated with the event, or giving general financial support. We proudly acknowledge our sponsors throughout the event.
